TWO WANT CLASSES

Want Ads may be divided into two general classes those that aim to meet some urgent demand that calls for instant attention, and those that are the regular publicity for individuals, firms and corporations seeking business.

The leaving of the cook, the necessity of added helpers in the office, store or factory, the quick sale of realty, the demand for tenants, roomers, boarders, lost and found-all such conditions prompt the first class of Wants.

Announcements of business houses, chances for buying and selling, the securing of trained executives and responsible agents-such publicity forms the second division of
